Department of Finance

Most finance professionals can drive the car...
But do they understand how the engine works?

At LSE, we believe in understanding why things work. We take you below the surface to understand the fundamentals of finance, giving you the tools to accelerate your career in a changing marketplace.

MSc Finance (Part-time)

The MSc Finance (Part-time) is LSE's most established Executive Master's programme. Taught in the evenings, it provides a unique opportunity for busy professionals to combine a full-time career with the opportunity to study a world-class MSc Finance programme that is grounded in academic depth and rigour.

Join us for an Information Evening or a one-to-one session to discuss your application.

Register at lse.ac.uk/finance

WELCOME

Everyone is welcome to attend LSE's public events, where some of the most influential figures in the social sciences can be heard.

Events are generally free and open to all, with entry on a first come, first served basis – unless otherwise stated. It does get busy so we advise people to turn up 20 minutes before the advertised time. For ticketed events, please go to lse.ac.uk/events and fill in the online booking form to request a ticket. Allocations of tickets are set aside for LSE staff and students.

Transcripts, podcasts and videos of an increasing number of LSE events are available online after the event at lse.ac.uk/lse-player. If you fancy grabbing a bite to eat before an event, or you want to sit and discuss the event with friends afterwards, there are a range of LSE catering outlets on campus. To see the different venues and their opening times please visit lse.ac.uk/cateringservices

Just economics and politics? Think again. While LSE does not teach arts or music, there is a vibrant cultural side to the School – from weekly Thursday lunchtime free music concerts in the Shaw Library and an LSE orchestra and choir with their own professional conductors, to various film, art and photographic student societies and artist-in-residence projects. For more information please visit lse.ac.uk/arts

LSE Arts public exhibition

Monday 11 November to Friday 6 December

Atrium Gallery, Old Building

China: a dual image

Modern China presents a dual image: a society transforming itself through economic development and infrastructure investment; and the world's most populous country, with multiple traditions in its economic, cultural and political life. This photography exhibition presents to you China's old and new, rich and poor, order and disorder.

Info: arts@lse.ac.uk or call 020 7955 6043.
Visitors are welcome Monday-Friday 10am-8pm. Please see lse.ac.uk/arts for details.
