BRAIN GAIN

AN EXCITING FUTURE FOR GREECE

B R A I N R E - G A I N

“ The return to Greece of highly trained professionals who left the country to live and work where greater opportunities were offered.

The main motivation for the return would be radical changes in a variety of sectors in Greece.

Brain Drain in Europe

- ◉ Intramobility within the EU – “Westward migration”
- ◉ Large population shifts
- ◉ Top reason to leave: differences in wages and living standards

- Loss of talent to higher-income countries
- Rapidly ageing population
- Negative impact on innovation and economic growth

Brain Drain in Greece

- Over 427,000 Greeks left the country between 2008 - 2016
- 63% men, 37% women
- Ages: 31+
- Well educated, highly skilled (9/10 are university graduates)
- Top Destinations: Europe (75%), US & Canada (9%), Gulf Countries (8%), Australia (5%)
- Preferred countries: UK 24%, Netherlands 11%, Switzerland 8%, Germany 6%

Brain Drain Top Reasons to Leave

- Corruption and lack of meritocracy in Greece: 48%
- Financial crisis & insecurity: 39%
- Better career opportunities abroad: 30%
- Prospect of higher salary: 27%

Brain Drain Additional Reasons

Protest against:

- ✓ the chronic malfunctions of Greek society
- ✓ lack of equality
- ✓ collapse of socio-political institutions

Reaction to an inequitable tax regime

Overall lack of opportunities

Shrinking of the middle class during the fiscal crisis

Brain Re-Gain Reasons

(those who returned)

- Love for Greece
- Starting a family
- Securing a suitable job
- Taking care of ageing parents
- Low cost of living in Greece
- A Greek education for their children

Brain Re-Gain Reasons to Come Back

(those still abroad)

- Family reasons
- Lifestyle, climate, nostalgia
- Improved salary & working conditions than current ones
- Recognition of working experience gained abroad
- Improved overall financial situation in Greece
- Change in outlook (business culture, transparency, meritocracy etc.)
- Help with family, children etc.

- Competitive working environment, on a par with international standards (salary, benefits, working conditions)
- Opportunities for professional growth and advancement

Brain Re-Gain Incentives

Entrepreneurship

- Lower taxation and social security
- Stable tax regime (applies for investors, as well)
- Access to funding / finance
- Changes in the legal framework
- Stable financial environment
- Reduced bureaucracy

Brain Re-Gain Incentives

Research

- Opportunities for cutting-edge research in all
- Access to funding for doctoral and post-doc research
- Changes in legal framework
- Pairing of academic research with the market
- Exploitation of IP

Initiatives supporting small businesses

Brain Remain -

A non-for-profit organization that financially supports small businesses, new and existing ones

A one-of-a-kind organization in Greece, aiming to relieve unemployment through entrepreneurship

In 4 years of operation, TPT has supported over 250 businesses and has created more than 550 new jobs

TPT also provides free business development services and networking opportunities to entrepreneurs

Culture

The biggest mistake in Greece is that we are coming out of the crisis without having understood anything. A crisis of mainly moral values, which should have brought us to the question of how we can build a better society. This was just treated as a financial crisis of numbers. I hope, we realize soon enough, that an environment in which the arts can flourish means health.
