

On the occasion of World Health Day and in collaboration with LSE Health, the UK partners of Action for Global Health, the International HIV/AIDS Alliance, Interact Worldwide and TB Alert, invite you to the launch of their 2009 policy report:

'Health in Crisis'

'Why, in a time of economic crisis, Europe must do more than ever to achieve the health Millennium Development Goals'

The report looks at Europe's role in achieving the health MDGs in a time of economic crisis, and examines what the outcomes of last year's high-level events in New York, Doha and Accra mean for the health sector.

Tuesday 7th April 2009, 5-6.30 p.m.

Seminar Room Café Pepe, Clement House, Aldwych
London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE)
Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE

Directions to LSE: <http://www2.lse.ac.uk/mapsAndDirections/Home.aspx>

Speakers

Jenny Borden, Chief-Executive, Interact Worldwide

Peter Colenso, Head of Human Development, DFID

Rotimi Sankore, Coordinator, Africa Public Health Rights Alliance

Alistair McGuire, Professor of Health Economics and Head of Department, Department of Social Policy, LSE

The seminar will be followed by a Reception in D502, Clement House

Please RSVP if you can attend to ukadvocacy@actionforglobalhealth.eu or 0207 241 8515

