

PhD in Accounting Information Session

When: Wed 30/11/2016 13:00 - 14:00

Where: The Old Building, LSE (OLD 2.41)

Have you considered studying for a PhD in Accounting?

The Department of Accounting will be holding an information session on Wednesday 30 November, 13.00-14.00 in room OLD 2.41 which you are welcome to attend, refreshments will be provided.

The PhD programme in Accounting at LSE enables students to develop the required technical, methodological and intellectual skills for conducting research of the highest international standards and gives them the opportunity to become members of an integrated community of researchers and leading academics.

The Department of Accounting at LSE takes pride in its diverse faculty and student body coming from across the globe to engage in the study of economic, institutional and organisational aspects of accounting and financial management. We take a broad view of accounting, as well as of the methods with which accounting questions are being researched, and thus we aim to attract PhD applications from those who have an interest to pursue research in, but not limited to, the following areas:

- Accounting, regulation and financial reporting
- Accounting and financial management
- Accounting, organisations and institutions
- Management accounting and organisational control
- Accounting, governance and risk management
- Accounting and public policy; accounting history

Please note that the department strongly encourages early applications.

Funding: The deadline for ESRC awards and the first round of LSE PhD Studentships is 9 January 2017. The second round for LSE PhD Studentships is 26 April. Selection for funding is based on receipt of an application for a place – including all ancillary documents.

Please see the Financial Support Office webpage for full details of all funding opportunities available.

In the meantime, please see the Graduate Prospectus for further details or refer to our prospective students webpage. Of course, we welcome any questions that you may have as a prospective applicant. Any enquiries may be directed to Andrea Mennicken at a.m.mennicken@lse.ac.uk or the PhD Programme Manager, Rebecca Baker at r.j.baker@lse.ac.uk
