Conversing with the Law

In Conversation with The Hon Mr Justice Singh

The Hon Mr Justice Singh
English High Court Judge, Queen’s Bench Division
Founding member, Matrix Chambers

Professor Conor Gearty
Chair, LSE

Suggested hashtag for Twitter users: #LSESingh
In Conversation with the Hon. Mr Justice Singh

7 November 2012

Tweet your questions and comments throughout tonight’s event

@LSELaw #LSESingh
@TimNewburn

How does Mr Justice Singh view the current controversy surrounding prisoners’ voting “rights”?

#LSESingh
@RobertCraig3

Do you think it is either useful or helpful to use the word ‘illegal’ in the context of international politics?

#LSESingh

tweet your questions and comments throughout tonight’s event

@LSELaw #LSESingh
You once said the most important word in the ECHR = ‘everyone’. Do u worry tht replacement of the HRA w/ a UK Bill of Rights might threaten this most important protection for EVERYONE to exclude some the more unpopular or marginalised in our society?

Tweet your questions and comments throughout tonight’s event @LSELaw #LSESingh
After the celebration of Belmarsh, is the ongoing control order/TPIM saga an example of the success of, or limitations of, legal accountability in counter-terrorism law. ie Can the courts really check an executive with such determination to perpetuate extraordinary illiberal measures?
@SeethingMead

Wd domestic h/rights protection be better served if pub. bodies were held to be acting unlawfully if they failed to consider them? #LSESingh

Tweet your questions and comments throughout tonight’s event

@LSELaw  #LSESingh
Tweet your questions

@LSELaw

#LSESingh

In Conversation with the Hon. Mr Justice Singh

7 November 2012
In Conversation with The Hon Mr Justice Singh

The Hon Mr Justice Singh
English High Court Judge, Queen’s Bench Division
Founding member, Matrix Chambers

Professor Conor Gearty
Chair, LSE

Suggested hashtag for Twitter users: #LSESingh