A lunchtime discussion with

Ashraf Qazi
UN Secretary-General's
Special Representative for Sudan

What now for Sudan?

Thursday, 29 October 2009
13.00 – 14.00 pm

Wolfson Theatre, New Academic Building,
London School of Economics, 24 Kingsway, WC2A 2AE

On 28th October 2009 SRSG Qazi will brief the UN Security Council on the current situation in Sudan and his prognosis on the forthcoming fourteen months before the planned 2011 referendum.

On 29th October 2009 SRSG Qazi will give the same brief in discussion with an LSE audience.

Special Representative to Sudan since 2007, Mr Qazi is the senior UN envoy to a situation termed by Lise Grande at LSE last week as a 'perfect humanitarian storm'. He brings to this role his breadth of experience in the Pakistani diplomatic service and as UN Head of Mission in Iraq (2003-06).

This event is free and open to the public.
Seats will be allocated on a first come first serve basis.
Please arrive 15-20 minutes prior to the start time to ensure you get a seat.
