Subject: Green for Beginners - Michaelmas Term 2014

Dear all,
Green for Beginners is back this academic year with a new dedicated website and our inaugural email being ALL ABOUT RECYCLING!
So, here we go:

Please remember to correctly recycle in the bins around the corridors and the kitchens of the building! Although it is understandably exceedingly annoying to have to place the foil of the yoghurt pot separately from the actual pot!
But please do persevere!

 recycle
The possibilities are endless.

Did you know you can recycle your old mobile phones at LSE?
Special recycling stations are located at:

- Saw Swee Hock Student Centre, SU reception
- Library, Lobby
- LSE halls of residence, main receptions

Interesting news item: UK's first zero-waste restaurant has opened in Brighton!

Daria's winter green tip

A winter's green tip for those with nasty colds, sore throats and coughs – recipe that is not only delicious but has medicinal qualities and is healthy: A steamed whole pear with honey – Korean cultures swear by it....

And

Just because recycling rhymes with cycling, here is an interesting article about why cycling is great!

Many thanks,

The Green Team of the Department (Miriam, Rachel, Gary, Daria and Kalliopi)
