

THE LONDON SCHOOL
OF ECONOMICS AND
POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

A blurred background image of a floor with a large, light-colored geometric pattern, possibly a compass rose or a stylized sunburst, set against a red diagonal band on the left.

European Institute

Study Europe. Understand the world.

Who we are

The European Institute is a dedicated centre for the interdisciplinary study of processes of integration and fragmentation within Europe.

216 students from across the world

Figures do not add to 100% due to rounding.

---

AVERAGE AGE of our students 23

---

Gender

RESEARCH

5 research units

4 research streams

ranking in the latest
Research Excellence
Framework (Area Studies)

2 blogs

STAFF

29 academic and teaching staff

31 visiting
staff

10 administrative staff

17 research
staff

PROGRAMMES SIZES

8

36

45

53

73

MSc ESRes

MSc CCGE

MSc IMPP

MSc EUP*

MSc PEoE

Our smaller size is your advantage! You'll get to know more students in your programme, and from the other programmes in the department.

**NB. MSc EIPP will have the same intake as MSc EUP
Information from the 2018/19 academic year.*

The European Institute and your career

Where do EI GRADUATES WORK?

43 number of countries where EI alumni are working

£27,000
median salary of European Institute graduates

90%
of European Institute
graduates had positive employment outcomes six months after graduation

TOP EMPLOYMENT SECTORS include:

Public sector and government

International organisations

Consultancy

Education

Public relations and communications

Do more at the European Institute

Be a part of a vibrant academic and social community

We offer you opportunities to engage with fellow students and academics outside of the classroom. Join staff at informal dinners, go on an educational walking tour of London, participate in our popular Café Europa baking competitions, or attend our student conference in an English country manor house.

Build vital networking and professional skills

We help you develop skills to make you more employable in a crowded job market. Choose from a series of workshops including blogging, speech-writing, legislative drafting, lobbying, or political risk; or meet with successful EI alumni at our networking lunches.

We put students first

We want your input and feedback. From focus groups and student surveys, anonymous feedback cards or formal representation on departmental committees, there are many ways to contribute to the running of your department.

Federico Rinaldi
MSc Culture and Conflict in a
Global Europe candidate

“

The EI is a stimulating environment to study, meet amazing people and challenge my limits! I love my programme because it allows me to reflect and develop critical thinking on crucial issues such as eurocentrism, cultural conflicts, terrorism and question my positions.

”

MSc Culture and Conflict in a Global Europe

An exploration of the multifaceted opportunities and challenges globalisation brings to Europe.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- Interdisciplinary knowledge and an understanding of culture and conflict, drawing on political, global, social and philosophical thought.
- The capacity to analyse European debates and policies on culture and conflict in a global context.
- Key courses include: Culture and Security in Global Politics and The Culture of European Politics.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Some possible career destinations with this degree:

Foreign Policy | Journalism | Education

NGOs | International Organisations

Carl Giesecke
MSc Political Economy of Europe alumnus

The European Institute offers an unrivalled opportunity to study Europe at the heart of one of the leading institutions in the world. Its interdisciplinary approach

- covering political economy, public policy, philosophy or conflict studies
- empowers students with the tools to tackle Europe's most salient issues.

MSc Political Economy of Europe

A historically grounded, multi-disciplinary analysis of key political and economic processes and problems in Europe.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- Knowledge and understanding of the interaction between the economy and politics in Europe and its international context.
- The ability to identify the drivers behind the processes of European integration and fragmentation, and the institutions governing these processes.
- Key course: The Political Economy of Europe. Plus choose from a number of courses under the heading Political Economy in Action.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Some possible career destinations with this degree:

Politics   Diplomacy   Consultancy
International Financial Institutions
International Organisations

Miguel Cortijo-Antona
MSc EU Politics alumnus

“

The European Institute, with its different networking events and professional skills programme, creates the necessary conditions for a successful professional career within the world of politics, public policy institutions and business. I'm very pleased that I took the decision to study at the EI. ”

MSc European and International Public Policy

A multi-disciplinary analysis of contemporary European politics and public policy, including its impact on Europe, the EU member states and the broader international system.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- A deeper understanding of the wider domestic and international processes and effects of European integration and policy-making.
- Development of your professional skills for careers with government organisations, NGOs or the private sector.
- Key courses include: European Policy-Making and International Cooperation, and Evidence and Analysis in Policy-Making.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Some possible career destinations with this degree:

Government | Business | Academia
EU Institutions | NGOs

Wahed Moez
MSc International Migration and Public Policy alumnus

Thanks to the presence of internationally renowned faculty members – and their commitment towards the intellectual development of students – I have developed a nuanced understanding about the various effects of human mobility on policy choices at the global, regional, national, and local levels of governance.

MSc International Migration and Public Policy

A unique range of courses that will deepen your knowledge of public policy responses to international migration issues at the local, regional, national and global levels.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- A deeper understanding of the major historical and contemporary debates about international migration, and the ways in that such migration poses challenges for public policy matters.
- How to analyse the relationship between migration, globalisation and public policy.
- Key courses include: International Migration and Immigration Management, International Migration and Migrant Integration, and International Migration: EU Policies and Politics.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Some possible career destinations with this degree:

International Institutions | Public Service
Politics | NGOs | Immigration Organisations

Do Won Kim
MSc European Studies (Research) alumna

As a non-European student, I can confidently say that the European Institute is the perfect place for students, regardless of whether they are EU citizens or not. With its welcoming faculty and active communication with students, I feel I am part of the European Institute community.

MSc European Studies (Research)

A methodologically and historically grounded, multi-disciplinary analysis of Europe as a political, economic and cultural space.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN?

- Substantive themes in European integration and disintegration, with a strong emphasis on methodological training.
- Both quantitative and qualitative methodology, and how to apply them robustly throughout your research process.
- Key courses include: History and Theory of European Integration, The Political Economy of Europe, The Culture of European Politics, and Foundations of Social Research.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

Some possible career destinations with this degree:

Academia | Government | Diplomacy
Think Tanks | Consultancy

Marta Lorimer
MSc Double Degree in European Studies
alumna, and current EI PhD candidate

The two degrees I studied proved to be nicely complementary, which was the most enriching part of the double degree programme. It is about knowing how things work, being able to look at issues from all sides, and learning that 'so what?' Is really the most important question one can ask. I think that this is truly comprehensive education.

MSc Double Degree Programmes

The European Institute offers bespoke two-year double degree programmes with three different global partners. These select programmes are delivered by world-leading experts in their fields.

Double Master's Degree in European Studies

Spend your first year in Paris at Sciences Po, studying Master Affaires Européennes (Master of European Affairs) and your second year in London in the European Institute at LSE, studying either Culture and Conflict in a Global Europe, Political Economy of Europe, or European and International Public Policy.

Double Master's Degree in Global Political Economy of China and Europe

Year one of the programme takes place in London in the European Institute at LSE, where you will study the Global Political Economy of China and Europe. For year two you will be at Fudan University in Shanghai, where you will study Public Policy.

Double Master's Degree in European and International Public Policy and Politics

Your first year is spent at Bocconi University in Milan, where you will study Politics and Policy Analysis. Your second year will be in London at the European Institute at LSE, where you will study European and International Public Policy.

Student voices

Andrea Gutierrez-Cristobal
MSc EU Politics candidate

The European Institute is the best place to study for anyone wanting to know more about Europe and its place in the international arena. I feel like I never stop learning, inside and outside the classroom.

Serene Ho
MSc Culture and Conflict in a Global Europe alumna

The EI not only provides academic knowledge, but a wide-range of experiences. I particularly enjoy exchanging ideas with my course mates, and the great diversity of people here makes the conversations mind-stimulating.

Firoza Dodhi
MSc International Migration and Public Policy candidate

The European Institute is committed to fostering a culture of collaboration between students and faculty; the interactive environment encourages the intellectual development of all students. It is a privilege to be part of the EI community.

THE LONDON SCHOOL
OF ECONOMICS AND
POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

LSE European Institute
Cowdray House
The London School of Economics and Political Science
Houghton Street
London WC2A 2AE

Email: europeaninstitute@lse.ac.uk

Telephone: +44 (0)20 7106 1906

lse.ac.uk/ei

This information can be made available in alternative formats, on request.

Please contact, euroinst.dm@lse.ac.uk

The London School of Economics and Political Science is a School of the University of London. It is a charity and is incorporated in England as a company limited by guarantee under the Companies Acts (Reg no 70527).

The School seeks to ensure that people are treated equitably, regardless of age, disability, race, nationality, ethnic or national origin, gender, religion, sexual orientation or personal circumstances.

Design: LSE Design Unit (lse.ac.uk/designunit)
Photography: Nigel Stead, LSE School Photographer, iStock, Dreamstime