

Schapiro Seminar 2005-06

LSE Forum for Russian, Eastern European, and Eurasian Studies

Tuesdays, 5-7pm

LSE, Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE

Clement House, D702

Michaelmas Term

- | | |
|--------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11 October | Dr Spyros Economides, London School of Economics: 'Understanding the EU's Balkan Policies' |
| 25 October | Prof. Laszlo Bruszt, European University Institute: 'The Evolution of Developmental Regimes in Central and Eastern Europe' |
| 8 November | Dr. Paul Chaisty, Oxford University: 'Parliament-President Relations in Putin's Russia' |
| 22 November | Prof. Mark Beissinger, University of Wisconsin-Madison: 'Modular Democratic Revolutions: Structure and Example in the Spread of the Bulldozer/Rose/Orange/Tulip Revolution' |
| 6 December | Dr Sherrill Stroschein, University College London: 'Democratic Transition and Divided States: Policy and Hungarian Protest in Romania, Slovakia, and Ukraine' |

Lent Term

- 10 January Dr. Oleg Airapetov, Moscow State University:
‘Liberals and Generals before the 1917 Revolution’
- 24 January Dr. Anna Matveeva, former UNDP Regional Adviser on Peace
& Development in Central Asia:
‘Challenges to Governance and Security in Central Asia’
- 7 February Ben Elers, Programme Manager ‘Europe and Central Asia’, Transparency International:
‘Anti-Corruption Reform and the Communist Legacy in Europe and the FSU: One Size Fits All?’
Supported by Enterprise LSE and IDEAglobal
- 21 February Dr James Hughes, London School of Economics:
‘Chechnya and the Meaning of Terrorism’
- 7 March Dr Nicole Lindstrom, Central European University:
‘Contesting Europe from its Margins: Slovenia and Estonia’

All welcome!

For further information please contact LSE, European Institute, e-mail:
europeaninstitute@lse.ac.uk or Tel.: 020 7955 7537.