Dr Adonis Pegasiou: Politicised or Independent? The curious case of the Central Bank of Cyprus

Professor Kevin Featherstone: Narrow and Shallow: The governance of the Euro

Date

Friday 23rd of MAY 17:00 – 19:00

Venue

Omega Conference Room (First Floor - New building), European University Cyprus

Light refreshments will be provided. Registration is not needed.

Description of the seminar: The Seminar will offer a brief overview of the results of the Project, followed by two presentations, one by Dr Adonis Pegasiou (Research Associate at the EUC Research Centre and Visiting Fellow at the LSE Hellenic Observatory) and the second by Professor Kevin Featherstone (Director of the LSE Hellenic Observatory and Eleftherios Venizelos Professor of Contemporary Greek Studies and Professor of European Politics). Dr Pegasiou will focus at the national level to examine the developments relating to the Central Bank of Cyprus and if this Institution has remained in practice clear of political intervention. Professor Featherstone will offer a European perspective, focusing on the governance of the single European currency with reference to the ongoing economic crisis.

On this occasion, the European University Cyprus will honour Professor Featherstone for his enduring contribution to the study of Modern Greece and Cyprus and for his outstanding academic achievements at large.
