

THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

Co-hosted by the LSE Gender Institute and the Department of Government

Feminist Judgment: a one-day symposium

Speakers:

Professor Linda Zerilli
Professor Jennifer Nedelsky
Professor Clare Hemmings
Professor Kim Hutchings
Professor Sonia Kruks

Chaired by Professor Anne Phillips

Friday 25 May 2012
10am-5.30pm

Wolfson Theatre,
New Academic Building, LSE

This symposium explores the problem but also necessity of feminist judgment, in the light of critiques of humanism and universalism, and the inevitably parochial location of every "judge".

This event is free to all, but attendees should register by emailing j.a.deeley@lse.ac.uk

More information at lse.ac.uk/feministJudgment

twitter: #feministjudgment