THOSE WHO PLAN DO BETTER
THAN THOSE WHO DO NOT PLAN
EVEN THOUGH THEY RARELY STICK

Director's Update

This year we had a wonderful intake of students who again represented a fair old portion of the globe - both North and South America were represented as was eastern and western Europe and Asia.

We were a class of 35 students with 31 coming from the MSc Regional and Urban Planning Studies and 4 from the Double Degree with Science Po in Paris.

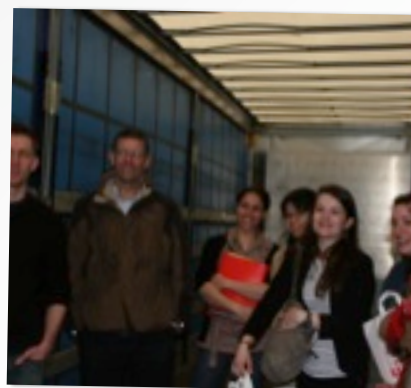

We would especially like to congratulate those student who really excelled by achieving a distinction overall for their MSc: Melissa Martinay, Zachory Taylor, Ingrid Sletten, Massimo Santanicchia, Alexa Baden-Powell, and Andrew Ehrich. An extra special congratulations to Melissa Martinay, winner of the best RUPS dissertation and Andrew Ehrich for the best overall performance of a RUPS student.

A big congratulations also to Dr. Sabina Uffer who completed her PhD this year in Regional and Urban Planning!!

The Planning Society was also strong and active this year. We had a superb trip organised by the committee. The trip was to Vienna and Bratislava and I believe represented the first time we have ever had to shelter in a lorry from howling rain and wind whilst our local expert gave us a talk!
