

Symposium in Honour of Professor Christopher Hill

Friday 12 May 2017, 14.00 – 18.00

Wolfson Theatre, New Academic Building, LSE

Professor Christopher Hill FBA worked at LSE for thirty years. He began as a lecturer in 1974, and from 1991 to 2004 he was the Montague Burton Professor of International Relations. In 2004 Christopher joined Cambridge University as the Sir Patrick Sheehy Professor of International Relations. Since 2016, he has been Professor Emeritus at Cambridge.

Christopher has written extensively on European foreign policy, and has had a significant impact on the community of scholars working on foreign policy, European foreign policy, and international relations. His most recent books include: Foreign Policy in the Twenty-First Century, 2nd edition (Palgrave Macmillan, 2015); The National Interest in Question: Foreign Policy in Multicultural Societies (Oxford University Press, 2013); and National and European Foreign Policies: Towards Europeanization, edited with Reuben Wong (Routledge, 2011). At the LSE he founded the European Foreign Policy Unit. This symposium explores the contribution his work has made to the study of European foreign policy and foreign policy more generally.

Programme

Time	Item
14.00-14.10	Welcome Professor Karen E. Smith
14.10-14.30	Reflections Professor Christopher Hill
14.30-14.45	Introduction: Theory in Christopher Hill's Work Dr Georgios Evangelopoulos
14.45-15.45	Roundtable on 'The Capabilities-Expectations Gap in 2017' Dr Amnon Aran, Professor Leticia Pinheiro, and Professor Helene Sjursen Chair: Dr Federica Bicchi
15.45-16.00	Refreshment break

Time	Item
16.00-17.00	Roundtable on 'The Soft Power of the UK and EU' Dr Elisabetta Brighi, Professor James Tang, and Professor Wolfgang Wessels Chair: Dr Ulrich Sedelmeier
17.00-18.00	Roundtable on 'Foreign policy after Brexit: populism versus Europeanisation' Dr Patricia Daehnhardt, Dr Ayla Gol, and Professor Inderjeet Parmar Chair: Professor Karen E. Smith

Biographies

Dr Amnon Aran is Senior Lecturer in International Politics at City University London.

Dr Federica Bicchi is Associate Professor in International Relations of Europe at LSE.

Dr Elisabetta Brighi is Lecturer in International Relations at the University of Westminster.

Dr Patricia Daehnhardt is a Researcher at the Portuguese Institute for International Affairs (IPRI-UNL) and Assistant Professor in International Relations at Lusíada University.

Dr Georgios Evangelopoulos is Scientific Advisor to the President of the Hellenic Republic.

Dr Ayla Gol is a Reader (Associate Professor) in the Department of International Politics at Aberystwyth University.

Professor Inderjeet Parmar is Professor in International Politics at City University London.

Professor Leticia Pinheiro is Professor of International Relations at the State University of Rio de Janeiro's Institute for Social and Political Studies (IESP-UERJ), Research Fellow with the National Research Council (CNPq) and with the Rio de Janeiro State Research Foundation (FAPERJ).

Dr Ulrich Sedelmeier is Associate Professor in International Relations of Europe at LSE.

Professor Helene Sjursen is a Research Professor at the ARENA Centre for European Studies, University of Oslo.

Professor Karen E. Smith is Professor of International Relations at LSE.

Professor James Tang is Dean of Social Sciences and Professor of Political Science at Singapore Management University.

Professor Wolfgang Wessels is Director of the Centre for Turkey and EU Studies at the University of Cologne, and Visiting Professor at the College of Europe.