

Beyond Tolerance: Citizenship, Diversity, Constructive Conflict

Julia Karmo
Journalist

Julia Karmo is a journalist and editor based in Berlin. Having extensively worked on the coverage of the refugee crisis for Sky news, Julia co-founded MigrationMatters.Me, an educational project connecting original thinkers and practitioners in the field of migration with the wider public through bite-sized visual courses.

Previously, she was a Foreign News Editor for Sky News, where she lead on-the-day coverage of major breaking stories such as the Boston bombings, the annexation of Crimea and the uprising in Lybia. Before that she was based in Moscow, covering Russia for Sky News and the Associated Press. Julia is also a co-organiser of storytelling hack-jams in Berlin and consults on social media newsgathering techniques.
