

Beyond Tolerance: Citizenship, Diversity, Constructive Conflict

Professor Lutfey Siddiqi
Visiting Professor-in-Practice, Centre for International Studies, LSE

Lutfey Siddiqi is Visiting Professor-in-Practice at the Centre for International Studies at LSE. He is also an Adjunct Professor at the National University of Singapore, having been a founding member of the faculty at its Risk Management Institute. Until May 2016, he was a Managing Director and member of the executive committee of FX, Rates & Credit (FRC) at UBS Investment bank with global responsibility for emerging markets. He was also a member of the Group Sustainability Council, the cross-divisional panel of opinion leaders and the investment bank innovation board.

Lutfey is a member of the Global Agenda Council (Financing & Capital) at the World Economic Forum, LSE Court of Governors & LSE Investment committee, Bretton Woods Committee, Advisory board of the Systemic Risk Centre and Academy for the $1 Million Global Teacher Prize.

Honoured as a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum in 2012, he was invited to speak on the official program at Davos consecutively between 2013 and 2016.

A CFA charter-holder and former board member of CFA Singapore, Lutfey obtained his First Class BSc. (hon) in Econometrics from the University of York, MSc. (Econ) from the London School of Economics and the International Baccalaureate diploma from UWC Atlantic College. In addition, he has completed senior leadership training at Harvard, Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy and IMD.

Lutfey is an active commentator on international media and multi-stakeholder fora on topics including macro investing, emerging markets (with a focus on Asia), risk management, capital and currency markets, financial regulation & policy, bank management, business-model transformations, impact investing, constructive conflict and diversity.

@Lutfeys

Lutfey Siddiqi