

As teachers and researchers at the world's leading social science institution, you play an important and highly valued role in the life of the School and in the way our students are educated.

LSE's Academic Development Programme is designed to facilitate that role. Alongside the workshops listed inside this foldout poster there are opportunities to participate in popular events such as the Education Symposium, Research Festival, and our new termly Teaching Cafés, and the chance to secure funding for innovative projects through our Teaching and Learning Development Fund.

Bespoke opportunities for academic development are available with departmental advisers in LSE's Teaching and Learning Centre, who are happy to see individuals, groups or departments for discussions about any aspect of teaching and learning. Please see lse.ac.uk/intranet/LSEServices/TLC/academicStaff/departmentalAdvisers.aspx for further details.

We look forward to seeing you at events throughout the year and meantime wish you a happy and productive academic session.

EVENTS AND OPPORTUNITIES FOR ACADEMIC STAFF TO DEVELOP THEIR TEACHING

MORE FOR LSE'S ACADEMIC STAFF

LSE TEACHING CAFÉS

Our termly LSE Teaching Cafés have become popular places for informal discussion and exchange among academic staff.

Join us in 2016/2017 for conversation over breakfast about the many ways your teaching and research can be connected.

24 November 2016

2 February 2017

1 June 2017

TLC PRACTICE EXCHANGE FORUMS

Our new practice exchange forums bring together academic colleagues from across the School to share practice on some common teaching and learning challenges. These are:

Research methods: teaching practice and exchange

Teaching large quantitative courses

For more information, contact tlc.academicdevelopment@lse.ac.uk

LSE TEACHING AND LEARNING DEVELOPMENT FUND

Join the many departments and individual educators who have benefitted from funding to support innovative projects – from the design of new approaches to assessment and feedback to the development of new courses, programmes and student research projects.

There are three funding rounds:

Michaelmas Term: opens 26 September, closes 25 November

Lent Term: opens 9 January, closes 17 March

Summer Term: opens 24 April, closes 26 May

Our webpages now feature new illustrative case-studies examining the work achieved using our funds, so do have a look at them!

i Application forms, information and guidance at lse.ac.uk/tlc/funding

i Find out more and join our mailing list at lse.ac.uk/tlc/cafes

CONTACTS

@LSETLC

lse.ac.uk/tlc

lse.ac.uk/educationblog

tlc@lse.ac.uk

Teaching and Learning Centre

ACADEMIC DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME 2016/17

TEACHING AT LSE

Develop and extend your teaching and supervision skills

TEACHING AND LEARNING IN THE QUANTITATIVE DISCIPLINES

Promoting active learning in quantitative disciplines

2 November 2016

Engaging students through gamification

2 May 2017

COURSE DESIGN

The core elements of good course design

4 November 2016

Designing effective assessment strategies for your courses and programmes

8 December 2016

Designing and delivering learning on intensive courses

21 February 2017

EVALUATING TEACHING

Evaluating teaching: quality assurance teaching enhancement

9 November 2016

Reviewing your teaching and planning for next academic year

13 March 2017

ASSESSMENT AND FEEDBACK

Building student learning through effective feedback

24 October 2016

Designing and assessing group work

15 November 2016

Writing exam questions

24 January 2017

APPROACHES TO LECTURING AND SEMINAR TEACHING

Writing in the classroom: ways of promoting active learning through short, written tasks

5 October 2016

Lecturing at the LSE: ideas and approaches

13 October 2016

Encouraging student contributions in small group teaching

8 November 2016

Discovering innovative practice from the LSE100 laboratory

10 November 2016

Teaching controversial subjects

30 January 2017

Developing your teaching skills through film

1 February 2017, 15 February 2017

RESEARCH SUPERVISION AND METHODS TEACHING

Supervising MSc dissertations

12 October 2016

Supervising PhD students:

19 October 2016, 22 February 2017, 18 May 2017

in collaboration with the PhD Academy

Research methods: teaching practice and exchange

20 October 2016, 25 January 2017

OUR LSE TEACHING CAFÉS IN 2016/17 HAVE A RESEARCH AND TEACHING THEME – SEE MORE OVERLEAF

ENGAGEMENT, IMPACT AND CITIZENSHIP

Make the most of your communications skills to build student and public engagement in your teaching and research

ACADEMIC PROGRESSION AND LEADERSHIP

Leadership and communication for Heads and Deputy Heads of Department

20 September 2016, 29 September 2016

The review and promotion process for teaching and research

5 October 2016, 28 February 2017

Presented by LSE Educational Strategy Unit and LSE Human Resources

Developing your academic mentoring skills

Presented in collaboration with Dr Sarabajaya Kumar, Academic and Professional Development Adviser to Research Staff

26 October 2016

THE REF AND IMPACT

presented by LSE Research Division

Information workshops to facilitate submissions and the gathering of impact case studies for the next Research Excellence Framework exercise. For more details of these events, please contact researchdivision@lse.ac.uk

RESEARCH AND FUNDING SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Expert guidance on both securing funding for your research and managing and reporting on awards. For information and scheduling for these events, please contact researchdivision@lse.ac.uk

RESEARCH FUNDING

presented by LSE Research Division

A series of information sessions, workshops, roundtables, clinics and networking events that will facilitate development of a long term and strategic approach to research funding

RESEARCH AWARD MANAGEMENT

presented by LSE Research Division

Information sessions and workshops for those who manage research grants, hire and manage staff, and write reports for funders

