

CALENDAR 2014

Equality and Diversity

redefining difference

The Equality and Diversity team is pleased to present the School's Diversity Calendar for 2014. The images used in the calendar were submitted by LSE staff and students for a photo competition and selected by a judging panel – as such they are an expression of LSE community's thoughts and ideas about equality and diversity.

The calendar seeks to engage with several, often overlapping, themes of relevance to equality and diversity. Though the calendar does not provide a comprehensive list of dates/festivals, each month presents a new, hopefully thought provoking, idea. We hope the calendar goes some way toward 'redefining difference'.
