

Welcome to the February Green Impact Newsletter

Nearly there! There is just over a week to go until workbooks need to be submitted. I hope you are all doing well. Please see the FAQs on Moodle if there are any questions regarding the criteria or email me. Remember to click 'submit' on the 4th March!

Green Impact projects of the month

IMT had a Green Lunch workshop, where staff bought their homemade feasts and learnt more about recycling and Sustainability projects on campus from the Sustainability team.

International Development have been pounding the stairs in Connaught house rather than jumping in the lift as part of their Green Impact project.

Department of Management have held a successful Waste Wednesday event which was followed by a film screening of 'Tapped' which examines the role of the bottled water industry and its effects on our health, climate change, pollution, and our reliance on oil.

Estates are doing appliance spot check to home in on those who leave things on in the office over night.

Many other teams have also had some amazing events and ideas. Please send in any photos or information over to me.

Time to get seasonal

Need some inspiration for dinner tonight? Try these winter vegetable crêpes:

Dates for your diary

24h Feb-Sustainable Futures Society is hosting a Panel discussion next week, if you're interested please check out the Sustainability twitter page for details.

2nd March— Jeremy Leggett will be giving a lecture entitled 'Clean Energy and Renaissance: a report from the race between revolution and collapse'. At the event Jeremy Leggett will also be launching his new book, there will be a reception afterwards to celebrate.

4th March— WORKBOOK SUBMISSION DEADLINES

11th March— Green Impact Audits. Please see the next page for a few more details and you will receive an email clarifying times and what will happen soon

Audit Day! All you need to know...

After submitting your workbook on the 4th March your department will be visited by one or two trained Green Impact auditors on the 11th March. The auditors will have a copy of your workbook and check your evidence for the criteria that have been completed.

Audits will take around an hour dependant on the size of your department and level of award you are aiming for. It is essential that at least one member of your Green team is available to show the auditor around the department.

Special Awards – earn extra workbook points!

Are you the next LSE Environmental Hero? Do you have an innovative idea to engage with the community? Do you have an office energy saving idea?

Last year winning entries received £50 of restaurant vouchers, and were entered into the national competition. You can find out more about each award on the 'Special' tab on the Green Impact workbook.

Earn extra points and nominate!