

Welcome to the bumper summer edition of Green Impact news

Huge congratulations are in order to all of LSE's Green Impact teams, project assistants, Student Switch Off winners, Sustainable Projects Fund winners and Green Champions! See the photos on the following pages. We are busy behind the scenes setting up Green Impact for the new year...

Green Impact changes for 2015

Next year the workbook will be scaled back to around 10 key criteria. There will also be a project bank with suggested project ideas and resources. Teams who have their own project ideas are also very encouraged to complete them and we will provide support throughout where possible.

The goal of this is to cut the admin heavy side of Green Impact, whilst maximising the flexibility and possibility of personalising projects. If you would like to feedback or have any ideas please email Vyvyan on v.evans@lse.ac.uk

Some buzzing volunteers?

It is coming up to the busy period for the Bee Collective (where we process the LSE honey). They have lots of volunteering opportunities available where you can learn about honey, how it's processed, and you can also try some different varieties at the end of the night. Contact them for more details or read the LSE Beekeeping blog.

Dinner inspiration for tonight

Try this wholesome roast onion , cauliflower and fennel soup.

Dates for your diary

22nd June— LSE Students auditing London Fire Brigade after the completion of Green Impact

23rd June- ‘International Cooperation and Climate Change’- LSE Public lecture

Sheikh Zayed Theatre, NAB, 6.30-8pm

Early September ~~September~~— Lunch of Green Impact 2015

September 24th and 25th—LSE's reuse project ReLove at Bankside and on campus. Buy pre-loved items for the office or home.

Vyvyan Evans, Sustainability Assistant, V.Evans@lse.ac.uk, DD 1177

Celebration of Sustainability 2015

LSE's annual Celebration of Sustainability was held on Friday 21st May in the Shaw Library. Staff and Students gathered to receive their prizes for their hard work greening the School.

See a full list of which departments won which award on the Sustainability team website.

Below are photos of the event.

Celebration of Sustainability 2015

Staff and Student Green Impact auditors

Residences picking up their gold award

Bronze winners collecting their tiles and clocks

Celebration of Sustainability 2015

Roseberry Hall of Residence and Department of Management picking up their awards, presented by LSE alum Rishi Madlani

Celebration of Sustainability 2015

Thank you to....

- Bob Ward for hosting the event
- Rishi Madlani for speaking
- Martin Bolton, Rishi Madlani and Rachel Soper for presenting the awards
- Kalil Berzangi for making the wonderful clocks
- LSE Catering for providing delicious organic, seasonal food
- Richard and the Porters
- And to you for helping to make LSE a more sustainable university!

