

THE LONDON SCHOOL
OF ECONOMICS AND
POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

Update on University Superannuation Scheme

This message has particular relevance to staff who are members of the University Superannuation Scheme (USS), or who are eligible to join.

Dear colleagues,

In our previous message regarding the ongoing USS valuation we confirmed our commitment to engaging with staff in regards to this process. We would like to thank those staff members that have taken time to contribute thoughts and information.

A new section of the LSE website has been created with more detailed information about the proposal as well as FAQs and other documentation. This will be updated as new information is created.

In order to gain a fuller appreciation of the views of impacted LSE colleagues, we are developing a Pensions Advisory Group, with members drawn from across the School.

LSE understands that UCU members have voted in favour of strike action and action short of a strike. UCU are in dispute with a number of institutions over the proposed changes to USS and failure to agree a collective agreement protecting pension benefits. All staff will be kept informed of any planned industrial action as more information becomes available.

In the meantime, we would like to reiterate that the School's senior management remains keen to hear the views of colleagues and to ensure they are conveyed to UUK and USS. Please send your comments to hr.pensions@lse.ac.uk.

Professor Stuart Corbridge
Provost and Deputy Director

Indi Seehra
Director of Human Resources

27 October 2014