

Dear Student,

As Head of the Mathematics Department, it is my pleasure to welcome you to the LSE and to our Department, and to give some further information about the start of your studies. You should also have received information directly from the Admissions Office about the School's Welcome Week programme.

The Department will hold its own Welcome Meeting and Reception, to give you the opportunity to meet fellow students and staff. This meeting will take place on Tuesday 20th September at 11:00am, Ground floor of Tower One, room TW1.G.01. Dr Tugkan Batu, the Departmental tutor, will be there to welcome you, along with other staff from the Mathematics Department. At this meeting you will also be introduced to your Academic Adviser, who will be your academic guide and can help you with problems you may experience in your time at the LSE.

Before you arrive, we strongly advise you to look at the more detailed information for new arrivals on the Departmental website here: http://www.lse.ac.uk/maths/Courses/BSc_MathsEcon.aspx, and also the School's Welcome Week information which can be found on the following webpage: <http://www.lse.ac.uk/intranet/students/yourFirstWeeks/home.aspx>

In addition, information about your degree and the courses in it can be found via the Mathematics Department website <http://www.lse.ac.uk/maths/home.aspx>
In order to give you a good start for one of the compulsory courses, MA100 Mathematical Methods, attached is a collection of review exercises.

I look forward to meeting you at the Welcome Meeting on 20th September. If you are not able to attend that meeting, please let us know via (+44) (0)20 7955 7732 or maths.info@lse.ac.uk.

If you have any further questions, feel free to contact the Department using the above telephone number or email address.

Yours sincerely,
Prof Martin Anthony
Head of Department
