

Department of Social Policy

Call for Papers: PopFest 2019

The 27th Annual Population Postgraduate Conference

Tuesday 28th – Thursday 30th May 2019

London School of Economics and Political Science

www.popfest2019.com

PopFest is an annual Population Studies conference organised by PhD students for PhD students, with the aim to bring together researchers from different Social Science disciplines such as Demography, Human Geography, Social Statistics, Public Health, Social Policy, International Development, Sociology, Economics, Anthropology, Gender Studies, Urban Planning, Politics and other fields related to Population Studies.

PopFest provides a supportive, international environment for postgraduate students to present and discuss their work, chair sessions and network.

Venue:

PopFest will take place at The London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE).

PopFest is hosted by the LSE Department of Social Policy, in association with The London School of Hygiene & Tropical Medicine (LSHTM).

Submission:

Abstracts for both oral presentations and posters are welcomed.

Theoretical as well as empirical papers include, but are not limited to, the following topics: Families, Fertility, Sexual and Reproductive Health, Internal and International Migration, Mobility, Ageing, Life course, Inequality, Health, Historical Demography, Mortality, and Methodological Approaches.

Submissions should include a title and an abstract of no more than 300 words. We advise applicants to use the following structure:

1. BACKGROUND. What is the motivation for this submission?
2. OBJECTIVE. What specific question(s) does this submission address?
3. METHODS. What data? What methods?
4. RESULTS. What are the main findings?
5. CONCLUSIONS. What do the findings mean?

Submissions will open the 11th February and close the 15th March, 2019. Applicants will be notified of acceptance by 25th March.

Please submit your abstract using the online form on our website:
www.popfest2019.com

PopFest also gives postgraduates the opportunity to chair sessions. If you are interested in chairing a session, please indicate this in your submission. There are also a limited number of student bursaries available. If the applicant is interested in applying for a bursary they must add 150 words to their application form outlining their reasons.

If you have any queries regarding submitting an abstract, please email us at submissions@popfest2019.com

More information:

You can find more information on submission guidelines, registration form, travel details and our sponsors on our website: www.popfest2019.com

And follow us on twitter @PopFest2019 for more updates.

If you have any queries regarding PopFest2019 please email us at info@popfest2019.com

We look forward to welcoming you in London,
PopFest 2019 Organising Committee

