

BSPS Membership Application Form

The BSPS is the principal UK professional society for those working in all aspects of population studies. Membership is possible on a personal basis for anyone with a professional interest in population studies. Corporate membership is also available for institutions wishing to join the Society with one named representative who may be changed without prior notice. BSPS members cover a wide spectrum of demographers. They work in local and central government, industry and higher education. Their interests include all aspects of population studies both in the developed and developing world.
