Careers

LSE Careers are here to help guide you through the careers maze with a comprehensive range of careers and employment services. They can help at every stage of your career planning, from thinking about your career for the first time to applying for jobs and speaking to employers you want to work for.

Career planning

The career planning section of their website, especially the Career Builder tool, will give you some tips on how to begin and point you to the most appropriate information and resources for whatever stage you're at. You can also discuss your options with a careers consultant in a careers appointment (you can book up to four per term).

Learn about different employment sectors and options on the LSE Careers website and come along to their seminars, panel discussions and "Meet an Alum" events to find out more about alumni career paths and what working in different industries and roles is like.

Experience and employability

Want to gain some work experience, learn or develop a skill or earn some money while you're studying? LSE Careers run a range of skills seminars and advertise internships and hundreds of part-time jobs, on and off campus, which fit in with your studies.

Alongside being a great way to give back to the community, volunteering can be very beneficial to both your personal and professional development. The LSE Volunteer Centre can help you find the right role for you and also advertises one-off and long-term opportunities in the UK and abroad.

Finding a job

LSE Careers work with thousands of employers to give you a huge range of career opportunities in the UK and internationally which are listed on LSE CareerHub, our exclusive jobs board. We advertise full-time, part-time, graduate, internship, and experienced hire opportunities.

They also run sector-specific careers fairs and hundreds of employer networking events and presentations where you can talk to recruiters and company representatives.

If you want to start your own business, LSE Generate offers a skills development Programme and networking events from which you can learn, market test ideas, and identify key relationships within the immediate and wider entrepreneurial community.

Applications and interviews

When you start applying for jobs, the careers website has information on applications, interview assessment centres and psychometric tests to give you an idea of what's expected and how to succeed. They also run mock assessment centres and their careers consultants can check your CVs, cover letters and applications and run practice interviews with you so you can improve your technique before the day.

What LSE Alumni go on to do

Popular careers chosen by LSE graduates include: NGOs and development, consultancy, research and education, finance, journalism, publishing, and the public sector and government.

If you're researching a course on a topic you're passionate about but have no idea where it could lead, our graduate destinations page can give you some great ideas. Take a look at what students who studied in your prospective department have gone on to do, or search by degree course. LSE Careers also contact graduate six months after they graduate as part of the Destinations of Leavers from Higher Education \(DLHE\) survey and in our most recent survey, 90.5% of LSE graduates were in employment or further study. As LSE alumni you still have access to LSE Careers for up to five years after you complete your course.

Courses Not Available in 2016/17

Each year there are some courses that do not run due to being temporarily suspended or permanently withdrawn. In many cases this is due to the adjustment of teaching allocations so that other existing courses can be enhanced or new courses can be offered in light of developments in the discipline, path-breaking research, or on the basis of student feedback; these changes are intended to enhance the overall student learning experience. Other adjustments to the teaching portfolio may be required to accommodate sabbatical leave for academic staff, or due to unforeseen staff illness or resignation for example.

A full list of suspended and withdrawn courses for 2016/17 undergraduate students can be found here in the School's Calendar:

<http://www.lse.ac.uk/resources/calendar/CourseAndProgrammeInfo/updatedUGProspective.htm>

Please note that this page will be updated with additions and changes as necessary, so check it periodically or contact the relevant academic department for confirmation of course availability.

This information is provided to assist you when considering your course choices for 2016/17 and to keep you fully informed of any changes which may affect the courses available on your programme of study.

Notes and dates for the diary

- Applications for LSE accommodation are now open! Apply online before 30 June.

- Monday 1 August 2016

Deadline for submitting certified copies of requested qualifications, and (if requested) proof of your English Language qualification.

The LSE wants to provide reassurance to EU students who are registered at the University in 2016/17 (either as a new or continuing student) that our intention is to continue to charge the home rate for tuition fees, for all subsequent years of their programme.

No decision has yet been made for EU students starting at the University in 2017/18. We will publish an update as soon as possible after the referendum

Entertainment at LSE

The LSE Students' Union events centre, The Venue, is located in the basement of our Saw Swee Hock Student Centre (SAW) and showcases some of the best entertainment on campus, including live bands, dance, films and club nights.

Why not take a look at LSESU's events calendar to see what's on offer?

Also located on campus is the theatre and arts venue the Peacock theatre. The theatre is a satellite venue for the famous Sadler's Wells and has regular theatre and dance performances, often offering discounted student tickets. See what's on.

LSE clubs and societies

LSE Students' Union has over 150 societies, covering a wide range of activities to cover every possible interest!

Each society holds events and activities throughout the academic year, and it's a great way to meet people with similar interests. You'll be able to learn more about the various clubs and societies, and meet some of their members, during your first weeks at LSE.

In the meantime, why not browse the options online?

Places to socialise at LSE

There is a wide range of places to grab a soft drink or a tipple on campus, from the well loved LSE Garrick, to drinking spots like The George and the students' union bar The Three Tuns, not to mention the huge range of coffee shops on campus! There really is something to match every taste and mood.

One of the most popular places to relax with a drink is The Three Tuns, which has recently moved location into the ground floor of SAW. SAW is also home to LSE's Students' Union, a fitness centre, internet café, LSE Careers, Residential Services and Faith Centre.
