The impact of giving back

The American Fund for LSE supports priority projects which help to improve School life. By making a gift to the American Fund today you are making a valuable investment in the future of LSE.

Thank you for your support of the American Fund for LSE

Philanthropy is the cornerstone upon which LSE was built. Your gift to the American Fund for LSE is a continuation of this tradition and ensures that current and future generations can experience the lasting legacy of an LSE education. Your gift provides resources where they are most needed at LSE.

When you join fellow alumni and friends of the School in donating an unrestricted gift to the American Fund, you underpin projects that:

- provide financial assistance to talented students
- attract world class academics
- enhance the student experience
- engage the wider world in addressing the challenges of our times
- maintain LSE's international reputation for excellence in the social sciences
- create sustainable facilities and a state of the art campus.

TAX EFFICIENT GIVING

Alumni and friends based in the USA can make donations to the American Fund for LSE that are tax deductible to the full extent provided by law. The American Fund for LSE is a "501(c)(3)" non-profit organization based in New York. Tax number: 52-1908117. You can make your gift online at lse.ac.uk/americanfund or by completing and returning the gift form to our New York Office.

THE 1895 SOCIETY – LEADERSHIP GIVING AT LSE

The 1895 Society comprises LSE's leadership giving circles – recognising through bespoke stewardship programmes the generosity of alumni and friends. Leadership giving is structured in the following circles:

Shaw Circle – $1,700 – $8,499 – replacing the Director's Circle

Wallis Circle – $8,500 – $16,999 – replacing the Chairman's Circle

Webb Circle – $17,000 – $42,500 – a new tier of unrestricted leadership giving
