

We can help to

Save endangered turtles

- When will baby turtles hatch?
- Will the weather be too dry for eggs to develop properly?
- How can charities make best use of volunteer turtle guardians to water nests at the right time?

Turtle nests on Jekyll Island are at risk of drying out. We are working with the European Centre for Medium-range Weather Forecasting (ECMWF) to spot periods of dry weather during turtle hatching season, so that volunteers can take action.
