

Zane Jennings

London School of Economics
Houghton Street, London, WC2A 2AE
Z.Jennings@lse.ac.uk

Education

- 2020- Ph.D. candidate, Economic History
Working title: The Political Economy of Permanent Capital: The English East India Company, 1657-1721
Supervisors: Natacha Postel-Vinay, Max-Stephan Schulze
London School of Economics
- 2018-2019 MSc (Distinction), Economic History (Research)
London School of Economics
- 2012-2016 BScs (Summa Cum Laude), Economics and Political Science
Barrett, the Honors College
Arizona State University

Research

Dissertations

The Political Economy of Permanent Capital: The English East India Company, 1657-1721. (In progress.)

Supervised by Natacha Postel-Vinay and Max-Stephan Schulze.
London School of Economics.

Getting to credible commitment: The English East India Company, the Interregnum (1649-1660), and the road to permanent capital.

Supervised by Natacha Postel-Vinay.
London School of Economics.

The economics of sovereign debt sustainability: Assessing the IMF's Market Access Country (MAC) debt sustainability framework against the Greek crisis.

Supervised by Jose Mendez and Nancy Roberts.
Arizona State University.

Academic employment

- 2021- Commissioning editor,
Department of Economic History Blog
London School of Economics
- 2021- Teacher, Economic History 101: The internationalization of economic growth, 1870 to the present day,
Department of Economic History
London School of Economics
- 2015-2016 Research assistant,
Department of Politics and Global Studies
Arizona State University
- 2014-2016 Writing tutor,
Student Success Center
Arizona State University