The Cold War Studies Programme at the London School of Economics and Political Science and Political Science Department of International History along with the George Washington University Cold War Group (GWCW), the Center for Cold War Studies and International History (CCWS) of the University of California at Santa Barbara are pleased to announce their 2023 International Graduate Student Conference on the Cold War, to take place at the London School of Economics and Political Science Thursday May 11 to Saturday May 13, 2023.

The conference is an excellent opportunity for graduate students to present papers and receive critical feedback from peers and experts in the field. We encourage submissions by graduate students working on any aspect of the Cold War, broadly defined. Of particular interest are papers that employ newly available primary sources or nontraditional methodologies. To be considered, each prospective participant should submit a two-page proposal and a brief academic c.v. (in Word or pdf format) to Jeff Hawn at cwsih.gradconference.2023@gmail.com by Friday, February 17, 2023. Notification of acceptance will occur by Friday, March 3. Successful applicants will be expected to email their papers (no longer than 25 pages) by Friday, April 7.

Students should not apply to the conference unless they are prepared, upon admission, to attend the conference for its full substantive duration. The event will begin with a welcoming reception in the evening on Thursday, May 11, and continue until the early evening of Saturday, May 13. Student participants are expected to be present all day on Friday and Saturday. All applicants should indicate whether or not travel to London is feasible in their initial email. The author of the strongest paper will be awarded the Saki Ruth Dockrill Memorial Prize of £100 to be spent on books in any form. The winner will also have an opportunity to publish his or her article in the journal Cold War History. For further information, please contact Jeff Hawn at the aforementioned e-mail address.

The chairs and commentators of the conference sessions will be prominent faculty members from LSE, GWU, UCSB, and elsewhere. Affordable accommodation will be available near LSE campus and covered by the programme but travel to London is at the students' expense. Students are advised to check with department bursaries to cover travel expenses.

In 2003, UCSB and GWU first joined their separate spring conferences, and two years later LSE became a co-sponsor. The three cold war centers now hold a jointly sponsored conference each year, alternating among the three campuses.
