Support in the EI

The Programmes and Student Support Team

Manage your programme and courses, answer questions about all aspects of assessment, feedback, course selection, timetabling and extensions.

Academic Mentor

Provide academic guidance and feedback, supporting your academic progress, performance, and challenges, and provide pastoral support. You and your allocated mentor will have regular check-ins, at least twice a teaching term.

Programme Director

Also available to provide academic guidance. Main contact for your programme.

Departmental Senior Student Adviser

Charlotte Ennis (She/Her)

- Provides support for personal, welfare and wellbeing needs
- Assists with navigating LSE's many support services
- Provides advice when your studies or assessments are impacted
- Cannot advise on visas or academic performance

How to contact Charlotte

- Book a 30 min appointment (in-person/online)
- Online drop-in for quick queries (online)

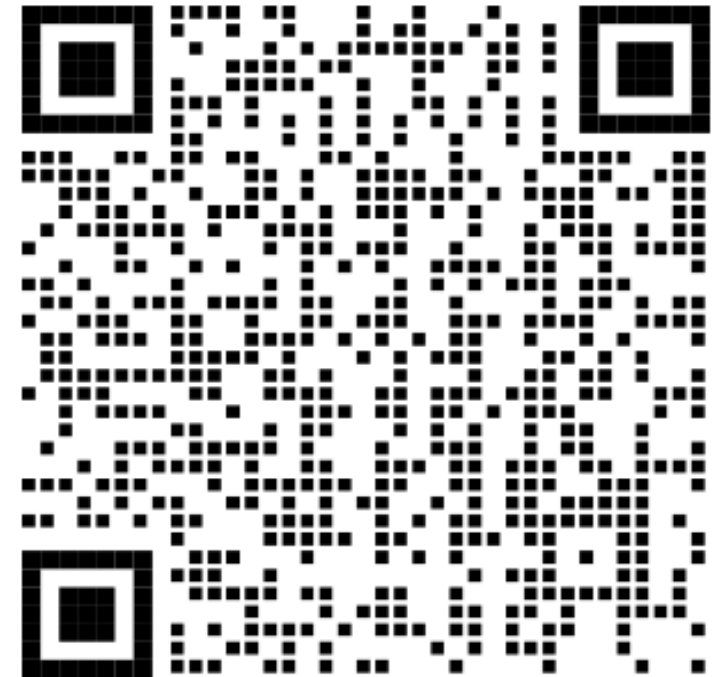

Departmental Senior Student Advice Team

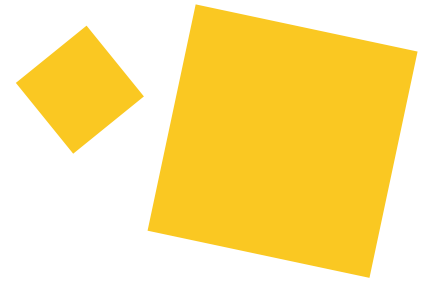

“There's lots of support available to you. Appointments are available online and in-person.”

Our new Departmental Senior Student Advisers are here to support you during your time at LSE, helping you to navigate (alongside your Academic Mentor and other departmental colleagues) the advice and support services available to you, and to assist with your wellbeing needs.

Up to 30 mins appointments are available in-person and online for several departments - see below for your adviser's details and availability. If your home department is not listed, support will be offered in a different way - talk to your Academic Mentor or check your
