

Photo: Paul A. Røstad (1908-86) - Ungdom i et demonstrasjonstog uten for Stortinget 1. mai 1968 (CC BY 4.0)

LSE-Yale

SEMINAR IN CONTEMPORARY INTERNATIONAL HISTORY

Program 2026-2027

With the exception of the first session, seminars take place on Thursdays 5pm-6:30pm in London, 12pm-1:30pm in New Haven, and online.

Organisers:

Tanya Harmer (LSE), Piers Ludlow (LSE), Laura Robson (Yale)

To join our mailing list and for Zoom and room locations, email: t.harmer@lse.ac.uk

- 13 October 2026
Charlotte Eaton (LSE)
 Catholic Anticommunism, the Spanish Civil War and State Building in Colombia, c.1930-53.
 Commentary: Marcela Echeverri Muñoz (Yale)
- 19 November 2026
Anne Eller (Yale)
 Might Rules the Universe: The 1890s Americas from Caribbean Shores.
 Commentary: Imaobong Umoren (LSE)
- 3 December 2026
Sergio Infante (Yale)
 Bootleg Modernization: Postcolonial Ghana, British Social Science, and the Origins of Informality, 1950-1970.
 Commentary: Alessandro Iandolo (UCL SSEES)
- 21 January 2027
Antoinette Ferrand (Ifao, Cairo)
 Internationalisation of Statistical Standards or a Southern Race for Development? Egypt and India in the 1950s.
 Commentary: Su Lin Lewis (University of Bristol)
- 4 February 2027
Sander van der Horst (Leiden University) & Teuku Reza Fadeli (Universitas Indonesia)
 Entangled Atoms: Indonesian Technopolitics, Disarmament Activism and Nuclear Sovereignty in the Global Cold War, 1954-1974
 Commentary: Matthew Jones (LSE)
- 19 February 2027
Panos Karagkounis (University of Exeter)
 Humanitarian Psychiatry avant la lettre? The League of Nations, Mental Health and Responsibilities in Greece, 1921-1936.
 Commentary: Baher Ibrahim (University of Glasgow)
- 11 May 2026
Hamish McDougall (University of Georgetown)
 Hunting the Leviathan: Nuclear-Free New Zealand and the Global Cold War.
 Commentary: Jay Sakar (University of Glasgow)