

‘Understanding the International in a Dividing World Order’

Research Workshop
15 May 2024

International Orders Research Unit, LSE IDEAS
Dr. Aaron McKeil, a.mckeil@lse.ac.uk

Time: 13:00-15:30

Location: Hybrid, LSE Pankhurst House (PAN), 9.04

Online Participation Link: TBC

Speakers:

William Bain, National University, Singapore,
‘The Idea of “System” in International Thought’

Jens Bartelson, Lund University,
Becoming International

Aaron McKeil, London School of Economics and Political Science,
Cosmopolitan Imaginaries and International Disorder

Andreas Aagaard Nohr, Groningen University,
A History of the Politics of Truth

Aleksandra Spalinkska, University of Sussex, and University of Warsaw,
Unbounding Modernity: New Medievalism and International Relations

The aims of this workshop are to facilitate the presentation of current research on the workshop’s theme, to contribute mutual feedback, and to identify overlapping lines of research interest.

This workshop is structured in a roundtable format. Each speaker will be invited to provide a 10-minute discussion of their current research project, in succession, followed by a 10-minute break, and mutual questions and comments for the remaining time. Dr. McKeil will offer opening and closing remarks and thanks to speakers and participants.

To register, please email: a.mckeil@lse.ac.uk