

GIACOMO BAGARELLA

Dual degree: Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (LKY), National University of Singapore

Contact: giacomo.bagarella@gmail.com

Nationality: Italian

Education:

9/2009 – 5/2013

Harvard University, United States

AB in Government, cum laude

Languages:

English – Fluent

Italian – Native speaker

French – Advanced

Arabic – Intermediate

German – Beginner

Macedonian – Beginner

IT Skills:

Microsoft Office – Advanced

Stata – Advanced

ArcGIS – Beginner

Key academic interests:

International Security

Urban Policy

History

Social Psychology

Key extra-curricular interests:

Photography

Football

Cooking

Work Experience:

9/2013 – 5/2014

The Government of New York City, Office of Citywide Purchasing

Urban Fellow

New York City, United States

- Managed contracting, data management, and compliance processes re-engineering for $6.5M-value citywide goods contracts; consolidated data to single system, resulting in procedure standardisation and simplification
- Devised and proposed to executives a social impact procurement strategy to favour small businesses and local economy growth through targeted purchasing and leveraging of spend intelligence and multiplier effects.

5/2015 – 7/2015

UK National Audit Office

Analyst – Project Delivery Unit

London, United Kingdom

- Interviewed lead auditors of 12 UK major government projects, synthesising their insights on assessing program design to update the NAO's "Initiating Successful Projects" guide for the current policy and economic landscape
- Reviewed cost-benefit analyses of defence staffing and technology programs and nuclear plant, transportation, social services, and local government reforms to synthesise best practices in financing and implementation.

6/2012 – 8/2012

City of London Corporation

Corporate Affairs Intern

London, United Kingdom

- Drafted reports on City and Greater London global business competitiveness for Economic Development Office
- Prepared briefs for top executives on House of Commons bank regulation inquiries and UK immigration policy.