

TERESA RAIGADA

Policy stream: International Development

Contact: teresaraigada@icloud.com

Nationality: Spanish

Education:

9/2007 – 7/2013

University Carlos III, Madrid, Spain

BSc Economics

9/2007 – 7/2013

University Carlos III, Madrid, Spain

LLB

Languages:

English – Fluent

French – Advanced

German – Beginner

Spanish – Native speaker

IT Skills:

Stata – Advanced

MS Word – Advanced

MS PowerPoint – Advanced

Key academic interests:

Development Economics

Economic Research

Social Policy

Policy Monitoring and Evaluation

Quantitative Analytics

Key extra-curricular interests:

Sports (running, surfing, skiing)

Photography

Cooking

Work Experience:

9/2011 – 6/2012

NGO Women Together (UN Ecosoc)

Intern

Madrid, Spain

- Conducted web-based, telephone, and personal research in order to determine potential partnership candidates
- Provided support to the NGO division on work related to microfinance
- Assisted the Director in the developing of different projects in Dominican Republic and Colombia.

9/2013 – 9/2014

IESE Business School

Research Assistant (Prof. Campa, former

Deputy Minister for Economic Affairs of Spain)

Madrid

- Collaborated in the design of the “Barometer of the Circulos 2014”, an annual report that seeks to provide society with precise information about the strengths of the Spanish economy and how its structural deficiencies can be resolved
- Participated in the design, implementation and quantitative analysis (using Stata and Excel) of a comprehensive survey of 154 Spanish executives and helped in the consolidation of findings and the provision of policy recommendations
- Engaged in report writing and graphical presentation of results.

11/2012 – Present

LSE International Growth Center

Research Assistant (Dr. Greg Fisher)

London

- Collaborating in background research for a project about the “Data Revolution”
- Involved in the selective review of all organisations and individuals working in or actively talking about this data
- Helping in the identification of potential funding.