Work experience:

4/2012 – 8/2015

Flatohoku General Incorporation

Association

Project Manager

Miyagi

- I successfully managed and executed more than 10 reconstruction projects in one of the areas devastated by a natural disaster in Japan, focusing on forest restoration and community development. The process required me to inspire public participation in workshops in order to create a strategic zoning plan for the disaster area. In addition, in order to handle it financially, I successfully fundraised more than £90,000 from 30 firms mainly in Japan.

4/2011 – 2/2012

MISUMI Corporation

Product Development Department

Tokyo

- I assisted to develop prototypes of manufacturing products by collecting customers' opinions through a phone interviews.
- I also completed an intensive training program in the call centre, distribution centre and manufacturing factory.

7/2016 – 9/2016

Tata Chemicals Limited

Internship

Mithapur

- I successfully managed to conduct a cost benefit analysis and marketing research on the organic waste converter project of Tata Chemicals Ltd based on both desk and field research.
- Some proposals regarding their production scale as well as to marketing target were made in order to become more financially effective and responsive to farmers' needs in the region.
