The Hinrich Foundation Global Trade Leader Scholarship

The Hinrich Foundation Global Trade Leader Scholarship is designed to help talented individuals who are passionate about trade and have been admitted to the LSE Executive Global Master's in Management Programme (EGMiM). The scholarship supports LSE's goal to attract qualified candidates from around the world regardless of their economic capability.

There are two scholarships available of £21,000 each for entry in the August 2021 intake of the Executive Global Master's in Management programme. Scholarship applicants will first be shortlisted by LSE's Executive Global Master's in Management Scholarship Committee, who will take into account the quality of their programme application, their profile as it relates to the conditions of the scholarship, their background, and their financial need.

Applicants should note the following conditions:

- we will not be able to consider your scholarship application unless you have also submitted a complete programme application (including references) for the August 2021 intake of the Executive Global Master's in Management via LSE Graduate Admissions
- only the information submitted in the scholarship application form will be shared with the Hinrich Foundation Scholarship Committee - if you are not offered a scholarship, this data will be destroyed
- the scholarship is open to candidates from all countries
- you will need to demonstrate your budget plan for your studies
- you must have a minimum of 5 years' full-time work experience
- preference will be given to candidates who show motivation to work in Asia post-EGMiM
- preference will be given to candidates who display a strong interest in working in global trade
- you are only eligible to apply for this scholarship in your year of entry to the programme – if you choose to defer your programme offer, the scholarship does not carry over
- both programme and scholarship applications must be received by LSE by 31 May 2021.

The LSE Executive Global Master's in Management Scholarship Committee will share shortlisted candidates with the Hinrich Foundation Scholarship Committee. Applicants will be expected to participate in an interview with the Hinrich Foundation during this process, who will then make the final decision on who will receive the award(s).

Upon successful scholarship selection from the EGMiM programme, scholarship recipients will have the opportunity to engage with the Hinrich Foundation for mentorship and possible job placement support, as well as membership in the Hinrich Foundation Alumni Association (HFAA). Scholars are encouraged to actively engage with over 200 global trade leaders in activities such as professional development training, mentorship, business networking and scholarship promotion. Recipients will also send the Hinrich Foundation a thank you letter and end-of-year 1 and end-of- study report covering their study experience and learning outcomes.
