

Dear {!Contact.FirstName},

Welcome to our June newsletter, with a focus on Careers, information on Course Changes for 2022/23, and a reminder to check out the Destination LSE events.

If you have missed any of our previous issues, you can find them here. Over the next few months we will continue to send you updates via these newsletters to help you prepare for your arrival at LSE.

We hope that you enjoy this month's issue, and look forward to welcoming you later this year.

Kind regards,

Graduate Admissions Office

LSE CAREERS

LSE Careers is here to help guide and support you throughout your time at LSE.

From starting to think about your career and exploring your options, to applying for jobs and acing your interviews, we offer a range of services to help you navigate your career journey.

Whether you're preparing to start your career, already have some work experience, or you're looking to change careers, we can support you. Read on to find out how...

Quick links

- Graduate Admissions
- Previous newsletters
- [Offer Pack \[PDF\]](#)
- Amendments to Offer pack
- Department contacts
- Term dates
- LSE for You
- FAQs
- Careers
- Graduate Destinations
- LSESU
- CMA
- Programme and Course information

COURSE CHANGES FOR 2022-23

From time to time, LSE has to change the course modules it makes available to new and continuing students.

The LSE Calendar website sets out any graduate course changes for the 2022-23 academic year. We will have emailed you directly, already, if any of the core courses on your chosen programme have been suspended.

However, you may also

Before you arrive

Wondering what careers focused activities, research and learning you can do before you begin your journey at LSE? To help you get started, we have created a series of resources with information about career planning, how to research graduate opportunities, including the UK recruitment process, and practical steps you can take when working on CVs and applications.

Each module highlights how LSE Careers will work with you when you become part of the LSE community, and introduces you to your career development cycle.

Which module should you start with?

- What do I want? What are my options? What can I do next? – If you're asking these questions, check out our 'Understand' module.
- What's out there? How do I get the kind of insight I need? Will I really like doing this job? – If you're asking these questions, check out our 'Explore' module.
- How relevant is what I've done so far? How do I build on all my experiences? What else do I need to do? – If you're asking these questions, check out our 'Experience' module.
- How do I get what I want? When do I need to apply? Is my application strong enough? – If you're asking these questions, check out our 'Implement' module.

Not sure where you're at? Browse all our modules for offer holders.

want to view optional course changes across all programmes as you prepare to join us in Autumn. Please note, this page is updated with additions and changes, so please do check it periodically for the most up-to-date information.

News from around LSE

See the links below for some of our featured content from this month:

Video of the month:

Do we need the arts to change the world? - LSE IQ

LSE News:

LSE honorary degree awarded to Christine Lagarde

Events:

Global Trends in Climate Litigation

Thursday 30
June 2022 6:30pm to 8:00pm

Hosted by the Grantham Research Institute on Climate Change and the Environment

This event will mark the launch of the Grantham Research Institute's 2022 Global Trends in Climate Change Litigation Policy Report.

This annual report – which has been published regularly since 2017 – provides an overview of the state of the art of climate litigation and highlights recent developments and recommendations for action.

What you can expect from us

At LSE Careers, we offer a range of events, appointments, opportunities and resources to help you make and reach your careers goals.

Events

- From opportunities to connect with LSE alumni and network with employers, to the chance to explore careers in different industries and sectors, LSE Careers hosts a varied events programme across the year, including our flagship careers fairs – Find out more about LSE Careers events.

Appointments

- From careers discussions, to practice interviews, to specific appointments for Disabled students, PhDs and Research staff, we offer a number of appointments with careers consultants each week – find out more about the different types of appointment.

Opportunities

- Looking for a part-time job or work experience? Once you become an LSE student, you'll be able to use your LSE login to access our CareerHub vacancies board and newsletter, featuring a range of vacancies tailored to you. In the meantime, you can browse our initiatives and external jobs boards list.

Resources

- Visit the LSE Careers website to explore a range of careers information and resources, including practical tips and sector-specific information.
- Check out the LSE Careers blog for alumni stories, event round ups, and top tips from our careers consultants.

The event will begin with a short presentation from authors Joana Setzer and Catherine Higham on the findings of the Grantham Research Institute's 2022 Global Trends in Climate Change Litigation Policy Report. The presentation will be followed by a panel discussion, with five distinguished experts in the field.

Featured Research:

Building more equitable communities: meet the 2022/23 Atlantic Fellows for Social and Economic Equity

Change is possible if you are vested enough, passionate, and determined to go the extra mile for others. In a world where inequity is so visible and sometimes seemingly insurmountable remembering that change is a process and that every little action taken to address inequity is a step toward a more equitable future is comforting.

- Stephanie Nwaoroni Akinwoya, 2022/23 Atlantic Fellow for Social and Economic Equity

Don't forget to follow our social media channels!

- Listen to Steer your Career on Spotify. Get a head start with the LSE Careers podcast.

Connect with LSE Careers

Stay up to date with everything LSE Careers by following us on social media:

- Instagram: @LSECareers
- TikTok: @LSECareers
- Twitter: @LSECareers
- LinkedIn: LSECareers
- Facebook: /LSECareers

Got a question? Get in touch via:

- Online chat: Chat with us
- Email: careers@lse.ac.uk

We look forward to welcoming you to LSE and if you have any questions before you join, please get in touch.

DESTINATION LSE

Each summer, the School organises Destination LSE pre-departure events for undergraduate, graduate and study abroad students who are joining LSE for the first time. Destination LSE events are designed to provide you with a relaxed and informal opportunity to meet your future classmates, learn more about the School, and ask any questions you might have.

Destination LSE events are taking place online throughout the month of July.

Find out more and register on the Destination LSE webpage.

Unsubscribe / Manage email preferences

CONNECT WITH LSE

Study

Meet us

Life at LSE

London School of Economics and Political Science

Houghton Street

London WC2A 2AE

www.lse.ac.uk

+44 (0)20 7955 6613

All Rights Reserved. © Copyright 2021.