

In this edition of Get Ready for LSE, we're sharing information about living costs, part-time work opportunities and tips on how to budget in London.

Money matters

When you're preparing to come to university, it's important that you plan your finances and budget efficiently.

We estimate that students should allow £1,300-£1,400 per month for all living expenses, including accommodation, travel, food, laundry, study costs, and other personal expenses. However, this will vary depending on your lifestyle.

Healthy food on a budget

April, our student vlogger, shares her favourite places to eat for those on a budget.

Budgeting tips

Explore tips on how to live in London on a budget by Cece, our student blogger.

Join us for our upcoming Destination LSE information sessions on:

- How can I budget my finances for life in London?
- What part-time jobs are available at LSE?

Part-time work

London has thousands of part-time job opportunities that you can fit around your studies, which is what many of our students do.

Campus jobs

LSE Alum, Nazia, shares the range of part-time roles that are available on campus for LSE students.

How to find a part-time job

Sarah, our student blogger, offers advice on finding part-time work and tells us what it's like to balance a job with your studies.

Information for offer holders

Our Frequently
Asked Questions

Virtual Offer
Holders' Day

All Rights Reserved. © Copyright 2023.

London School of Economics and Political Science

Houghton Street
London WC2A 2AE

www.lse.ac.uk

+44 (0)20 7955 6613

Unsubscribe/Manage email preferences